Our hockey team resigned from our Unit

We will miss our members from hockey team, who resigned from our Unit in 2011 and reduced our membership. Unit had been contributing for their league registration expenses in past years.
We enjoyed attending their late night matches and many of their successes.

The letter from hockey team:

Dear Sokol and its members,
Thank you for your support for our Cross Czech hockey team. Cross Czechs hockey players are always happy to see fans and feel support at our hockey games.
Hope you all continue to come to our hockey games in the future as you are all invited to all our hockey games. However, due to some Sokol members not welcoming our hockey club, and not making us feel welcome, we are stepping down as Sokol members as of 1/1/2011. We will no longer be renewing our membership:

David Folke, Captain of the Cross Czech

How we have paid our dues, see pages 15 & 16

Brothers and Sisters:
Our Unit membership currently stands 39 and 30, actively registered women and men, respectively.
Not all registered members however, paid their dues 2011 up to date.
DUES 2011 were due by February 28th 2011. Thank you for your cooperation.

The Masaryk Dance of 2011.

T.G. Masaryk, the first president of Czechoslovakia is the spiritual sponsor of our spring dance. Born March 7, 1850, he richly deserves our respectful remembrance when we celebrate his birthday. For he was not only a major influence in forming our newly independent state from the ashes of Austrian-Hungarian Empire, but also for his participation in the activities and promotion of the idea of Sokol Organization.

Pavel Kosatik writes in his book "The Czech Dreaming" about Masaryk's interaction with the then still young organization. Masaryk proudly admitted to "sokoling" ever since he was 13 years old. As a member of Sokol Prague for ten years, he was exercising with the group of "old gentlemen" and eventually brought to Sokol his wife and four children. It was his idea to form a hiking group, whose members were organizing long walk way beyond the outskirts of Prague.

It might do us a lot of good to follow his practice: a cold bath every morning and fifteen minutes of vigorous exercise. It was generally believed this routine kept him in an excellent physical condition into an advance age. Well, maybe we'll be allowed to drop the first, cold, part of his morning routine if we promise to attend every Sokol dance and the monthly hiking trips; the latter ably organized by Brother Milos Zivny, our Men's Director. You may inquire at 1-510-710-4076 or milosz@aol.com

Like the swallows to Capistrano, 47 partygoers returned to the comfortable dancing floor at the Tarragon restaurant on Saturday, March 26, 2011. The dinner of three choices - beef, chicken or salmon were good, no surprise there. The hums of lively talk dropped by one level as we all were busy wielding the knives and forks. Having a glass of after-dinner wine or beer, without the obligatory pulling out wallets to pay for the drinks, certainly contributed to the general feeling of well-being.

Sister Zelka Zivna's short speech about our first president gave us some fresh information about the man, whose birthday we celebrated. So much had been written about him but there is always some aspect of his life we never heard of and the story of his life is being built slowly, like a cathedral. She deserves thanks for accepting this task on a short notice.

The musicians of The Domitrowitch's Alpiners USA Band noticed the presence of a group of teenagers, part of the nine- member Teyrovsky clan, headed by our very active sister Georgina. More modern tunes were played by the band to keep our young, energetic dancers happy. It's amazing how wide range of age groups our gatherings bring together - everybody knows Sister Vera Horn, who will be 90 in June. She can attend thanks to Sister Shirley Gangelhoff who does the driving for her. Good inspiration for other able bodies to offer help to members who have problem driving at night.

We were enjoying an evening full of action. Mrs. Liana Derner, a beautiful soprano voice, returned to lift our spirit with a wide range of songs - from a foot-stamping czardash to Hašler's ,Ta naše písnička česká". You can contact her at lianka@seznam.cz or 1-408-540-9255.

Only reluctantly did we stop our chatter in order to hear numbers being called out for prizes in the raffle. You could tell, who bought most of the tickets: wherever the arms shot up happily in the air more frequently, reacting to a win.

And then even the most stubborn "table-sitters" got up to join the merry promenade, led by our young generation.

Rain or shine, it was a pleasant evening, reminding me of the "old-time" dances, when so many of us were young and happy to get together. Just the crowd was so much smaller now, counting around 50 comparing to several hundreds in the zenith of San Francisco Sokol Unit.

Zdenek Vernak.

Henry W. Husak 1927-2011

Henry W. Husak died at the age of 84, on Feb. 18, 2011, at his home in Sonoma.

Henry was born in Prague, Czech Republic, on Feb. 18, 1927, the son of Jindrich and Anna Husak. He is survived by his loving wife, Mary Husak; his son, Michael Husak and wife, Caroline; and his stepchildren, Robert Martin and wife, Nancy, Jan Martin and Charles Martin and wife, Holly. He also is survived by his grandchildren, Heather Martin, Jason Martin, Tina Reis, Sean Reis, Sarah Martin, Daniel Husak and Amanda Husak. He has three great-grandchildren, James Leveron, Gregory Reis and Madilynn-Grace Reis.

Henry left Czechoslovakia in 1948 for Australia, where he lived until about 1958 at which time he moved to San Francisco. He was a top producing broker and financial adviser for Prudential Insurance Company for more than 30 years, retiring in 1989.

Henry moved to Sonoma in 1989. He was a member of San Francisco Sokol and Sonoma SIRS and Kiwanis. Henry is an accomplished artist, regularly showing his work at Vintage House senior center, the Sonoma Library and at other events in town. He has been part of the Monday Vintage House art group for many years.

Henry's family and friends gathered for celebration of his life on Saturday, Feb. 26, 2011, at 1 p.m. at Duggan's Mission Chapel, 525 W. Napa St., Sonoma, CA 95476. A private inumment was held at a later date at Trinity Episcopal Church, Sonoma. Donations may be made to Sonoma Pets Lifeline, P.O. Box 341, Sonoma, CA 95476. Arrangements are under the direction of Duggan's Mission Chapel, Mission Cremation Service Sonoma. American Sokol San Francisco Unit is expressing deep condolence to his family. Henry was dedicated, long years supportive and active member of San Francisco Unit, positive observer and reader of our Vestnik. Sokol is loosing good friend and honest person. We are deeply sorry that this sad information unfortunately came after his funeral, retracted from local newspapers. God bless your soul Henry, everybody will remember you.

Dr. Kamil Skapa 1925-2011

Sokol Unit received a sad news that Br. Skapa, long time member of the Sokol San Francisco, suddenly died on January 17, 2011. He was 86 years old.
Br. Skapa moved to Denver in 1961, and was always a dedicated and supportive member of Sokol San Francisco Unit.
Our Sokol "old timers" remember him as a very talented musician, entertaining visitors of Sokol hall with his band, playing several instruments. In those zenith times, over 200 people were visiting Sokol dances, dinners prepared by enthusiastic volunteers. Kamil always flew from Denver playing for free with others unnamed Sokol band members.
His very good friend, Br. Frank Dlask, mentioned: "I will always remember our friendship we had since after WWII in Prague as students at University. We were planning our escape together after communist putsch in 1948, survived refugee camps and immigrated to Australia. We shared an apartment and worked together for Quanta's Airlines in Australia. We both emigrated to the US in 1955 to San Francisco area and worked together again for United Airlines".
Kamil had an active pilot license from Czech Republic, missed its renewal for couple of months here, due to his emigration process from Australia. United appreciated his expertise and promoted him to inspector of flying crews. People like him will be always remembered. God bless your soul Kamil.

Paul Burda, per an interview with Br. Frank Dlask

First Programmable Binary Computer

Biographic - Biography

At the age of 28, Konrad Zuse invented the world's first mechanical binary computer, the Z1, in Berlin (1936-1938), and he did so in the kitchen of his parents' home, much like the founders of Apple Computer many years later.

Konrad Zuse was born on June 22, 1910 in the Wilmersdorf district of Berlin (Berlin-Wilmersdorf). His father, Emil, was a mid-level official in the Prussian post office. His mother, Maria Crohn, was a housewife who came from Pomerania (Pommern) in eastern Prussia. Two years after his birth the family moved to Braunsberg, East Prussia, where young Konrad attended school and displayed talents in both basic construction and drawing.

In 1923 Emil Zuse was transferred to Hoyerswerda (today in Saxony/Sachsen) to run the local post office. Konrad graduated from the Reform-Realgymnasium (secondary school) in Hoyerswerda in 1928 and applied to enter the Technical College (Technische Hochschule) in Berlin-Charlottenburg to study engineering. During this time Zuse's family moved to Berlin-Kreuzberg. As a student Konrad earned money doing advertising graphics for automobiles. In 1935 he graduated as a Diplom-Ingenieur in structural engineering and was hired by the Henschel-Flugzeug-Werk (Henschel Aircraft Works) as a structural engineer. He was constantly looking for ways to reduce the time and drudgery of calculating structural designs, which led him to develop his first calculating machine (Rechenmaschine) or computer (Rechner). Soon he quit his job at the Henschel aircraft plant to devote all his time to invention and refining his new computer.

In 1939 the Second World War began and Zuse was drafted into the army. But within six months German authorities decided the war effort would be better served with Zuse back in engineering. He was soon working at Henschel once again, but in his free time he continued his computer work.

Die Rechenmaschine Z1
Among the remarkable features of Konrad Zuse's first computer, the Z1 Rechenmaschine had a keyboard for data input and flashing lights to indicate results. A restored but non-functional Z1 is on display in the German Technology Museum (Deutsches Technikmuseum) in Berlin. His Z1 design principles would not be formulated in the U.S. until 1940 by John von Neumann (1903-1957).

Zuse's Z2 (1940) was the first fully functioning electromechanical computer. A more advanced, programmable Z3 followed the next year. A replica of the Z3 and the original of a later Zuse (TSU-sa) computer, the Z4, can be found at the Deutsches Museum in Munich. The Z4 was developed between 1945 and 1949. The Z3 of 1941 is considered the world's first programmable computer and predates the ENIAC in the U.S. by many years. Unfortunately, it was destroyed in the war. Had it not been for the adverse war conditions and the lack of material support in Hitler Germany, one can only imagine what else Zuse might have produced. The Konrad-Zuse-Zentrum für Informationstechnik Berlin (ZIB), founded in 1986, is a working memorial to the German inventor of the computer. (See link below.)

The Computer Museum History Center in Mountain View, California issued the following statement in 1998, when it made an exception to its bylaws in order to honor Zuse: "In 1941, Konrad Zuse created the first fully-automated, program-controlled, and freely-programmable computer for binary floating-point calculations, and later, the basic programming system, Plankalkül. His contributions were so striking, and made under such adversity, that the History Center has made an exception to its usual practice and named him a Fellow posthumously." - If all goes as planned, there may soon be a new museum in Berlin devoted solely to Zuse. Supporters are hoping to get a large donation from Bill Gates to help things along. (See the Konrad-Zuse-Computermuseum in Hoyerswerda.)

He almost completed Z4 computer, and somehow managing to demonstrate it before scientists at the Aerodynamic Test Facility in Göttingen at the end of WWII. Right after the war Zuse was developing the world's first universal algorithmic programming language named Plankalkül. In October 1946 venture capital came from a contract with IBM and the rental of the Z4 computer in Switzerland. In 1950 the Z4 became the first, and for a time the only, programmable digital computer in practical use in Europe (at the ETH Zürich). It was followed by the more advanced Z5 in 1952. Today In 1955 the Z11 model was Zuse KG's first mass-produced computer. It was sold primarily to optical companies and universities. In 1957 the Z22 model became the first computer to use magnetic storage. Before its purchase by Siemens in 1966, Zuse KG manufactured 251 computers. As for Zuse's prediction that a computer would one day beat the world chess champion,that happened just two years after the inventor's death. In 1997, the IBM supercomputer known as "Big Blue" defeated Garry Kasparov in a six-game match.

Czech surgeon transplants whole face in USA for first time

ČTK | 22 March 2011

Boston (USA), March 21 (CTK) - Doctors from a Boston hospital under the leadership of a Czech surgeon have conducted the first full transplant of face in the USA, news agency AP said yesterday.

Czech surgeon Bohdan Pomahac was born in Ostrava, north Moravia, and graduated from Palacky University in Olomouc, north Moravia.

He came to the Boston hospital, one of the top ten hospitals in the USA, for a surgical practice in 1996.

The surgery was performed on a construction worker who suffered a serious injury in the contact with electric wiring two years ago.

The 15-hour surgery by the 30-member team was conducted by plastic surgeon Pomahac, aged 40, AP said.

The man is in a good condition after the surgery, AP added.

Pomahac's team transplanted the whole face, including a nose, lips, skin, nerves and muscles.

The donor's identity was not disclosed.

Pomahac said with his new face, the construction worker would not resemble the donor or himself before the surgery. The new face will be something in between, he added.

The patient will not see even after the surgery. Besides, some nerves were so damaged in the incident that sensation of his left cheek and left part of his forehead will be only partly resumed.

Pomahac already transplanted a nose, lips and a palate on a man disfigured in an accident in the Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston in April 2009. This was only the seventh transplant in the history of medicine.

MfD: Španělská společnost Fanjoya Group kupuje značku Jablonex

Španělská společnost Fanjoya Group kupuje s dalšími ochrannými známkami světoznámou značku české bižuterie Jablonex. Dohodu o prodeji značek tento týden podepsali zástupci španělské firmy a Jablonex Group. S odvoláním na člena představenstva Fanjoya Group Václava Blažka a další zdroje z oboru to napsala dnešní Mladá fronta Dnes (MfD). Konečnou dohodu firmy zatím neuzavřely, Jablonex ale potvrdil pokročilý stav jednání. Cenu transakce firmy neuvedly. Španělská firma chce pod značkou Jablonex nebo Bijou de Bohéme nadále prodávat českou bižuterii, i když už nebude z Jablonexu. Jednotlivé kolekce chce nakupovat u malých výrobců z regionu. "Jsme připraveni jednat jak s výrobci bižuterie na Jablonecku, tak s výrobci polotovarů," uvedl Blažek. Součástí obchodu je i nákup některých zahraničních zastoupení nebo internetové domény jablonex.com. Cenu za značku žádná ze stran nezveřejnila, už dříve se však cena ochranných známek odhadovala řádově na desítky milionů korun, uvedla MfD.

Výzkumník: Přežít rok v izolaci lze díky dobrému režimu a kuchaři

Základem k úspěšnému přežití ročního pobytu v izolovaném prostředí výzkumné stanice na Antarktidě je mít pevný denní režim a dobrého kuchaře. Takové poznatky si odnesl mladý český vojenský lékař Aleš Rybka, který v zemi sněhu a ledu strávil 12 měsíců od prosince 2009 do prosince 2010. Jako lékaře výzkumníka ho tam vyslala Evropská kosmická agentura, která na místě zkoumá podmínky podobné dlouhodobým pobytům ve vesmíru. "Důležitá je určitá sebereflexe, hlídání si toho, co člověk komu řekne a jak," uvedl dnes v rozhovoru s ČTK Rybka. Tak se dá podle něj předejít konfliktům a ponorkové nemoci. Problémy v komunikaci hrozí zejména v zimě, kdy nevychází slunce, všude je tma, lidé jsou náchylní k depresím a podráždění. Na Antarktidě je zima krutá, teploty dosahují zhruba 60 stupňů pod nulou, výjimkou ale není ani 80 stupňů pod nulou.

Církev zahájí rok sv. Anežky, narodila se před 800 lety
Pražské arcibiskupství zahájí ve středu rok sv. Anežky. Národní patronku připomene série výstav, přednášek a mší. ČTK o tom informoval mluvčí Aleš Pištora. Podle některých pramenů se Anežka narodila před 800 lety, 20. ledna 1211. Jako datum oficiálního zahájení roku si ale církev vybrala 2. březen, kdy se připomíná výročí jejího úmrtí. Zemřela v roce 1282. Anežce se bude věnovat například výstava, kterou na listopad plánuje Národní galerie v Klášteře sv. Anežky Na Františku. K výročí Anežky byla vyražena také pamětní medaile a vydána poštovní známka.

Besser jedná o vyjmutí knih ze zvýšení DPH
Ministr kultury Jiří Besser (za TOP 09) už zahájil jednání se svými vládními kolegy o možnosti vyjmout knihy ze zvyšování daně z přidané hodnoty (DPH). Předal jim analýzy knihkupců a literárních vědců, které varují před negativními vlivy navýšení daně. Podle nich hrozí, že se knihy stanou méně dostupnými a zvýší se bariéra v přístupu ke vzdělání. Většina evropských zemí má na knihy sníženou sazbu DPH, Velká Británie, Irsko a Norsko dokonce nulovou. Česko by tak šlo podle knihkupců a literátů opačnou cestou než zbytek Evropy. Besser podle prvních reakcí svých kolegů věří, že se mu je podaří přesvědčit. S ostatními ministry by chtěl jednat také o možnosti nezvyšovat daň u vstupného na kulturní akce a památky. Ale uznává prý, že určité nepopulární kroky budou zřejmě nevyhnutelné.

LAUGHLING CORNER

Starý arab žije přes 40 let v Chicagu. Ná pěkný dům se zahradou, na které by rád pěstoval brambory a zeleninu, ale žije zde úplně sám a cítí se na takovou práci už příliž starý a slabý.
Jeho syn studuje v Paříži a otec se rozhodne napsat mu e-mail:
Milý Ahmede, jsem moc smutný, že nemohu na své zahradě pěstovat brambory. Vím, že kdybys byl tady, pomohl bys mi tu zahradu zrýt. Mám tě rád. Tvůj otec.
Obratem obdrží odpověď.
Milý otče, prosím tě, nedělej v žádném případě nic na zahradě !!!
Schoval jsem tam „tu věc". Taky tě mám rád, tvůj Ahmed.
Jen pár hodin na to obklíčí dům starého muže americká armáda, námořníci, FBI, CIA.
Přeorávají a přerývají zahradu kousek po kousku, prohlížejí každý milimetr, ale nenajdou nic. Rozčarovaní se opět stahují.
Týž večer dostane starý muž ještě jeden e-mail od syna:
Milý otče, zahrada je určitě kompletně zrytá a můžeš sázet brambory. Víc toho z takové vzdálenosti udělat nemohu. Mám tě rád Ahmed.
